Palette for the palate

CCHEERS to d'Arenberg winemaker Chester Osborn who poured himself into creating a brilliant painting for the 2016 Variety Celebrity Art Auction.

The finished artwork, which Chester created using at least a litre of paint, is titled "Self Portrait; Wine, The Multi-Coloured Palette". Chester is an enthusiastic supporter of the children's charity – and has taken part in the Variety Bash five times. "It's a great cause... last year the bash raised more than $2.3 million for children in need," he says.

Chester is one of a number of celebrities who were invited by Variety to be mentored by world-renowned artist Chris Orchard and create artworks for the auction – which is happening tonight at a dinner at Published Art House in the city.

Other high profile names turned artists include Dr Gill Hicks, Lady Joan Hardy and Sir James Hardy, Alister Haigh, Cherylee Harris, Jane Reilly and Les Burdett.
